

Hospice back in action after refurbishment

• wife and son Broughton with son Oliver who regularly uses Avoca House

DISABLED children, their families and friends a new year was on Sunday celebrate Avoca House in Kidlington on Sunday evening following a major refurbishment.

Andy Broughton joined in with the ribbon cutting to mark the completion of a £1.5m programme of work to improve the Leopold Street children's hospice.

Avoca spacious environments have been created, while access and issues involving the disabled and disabled carers have been addressed with a new accessible entrance and lift. In the centre is a single, just over four-metre-wide

You just feel you're in a real den and when you come inside the building it feels like the centre of all that's right.

"There's a general feeling that it's an improved and refined space," said the director of finance.

Avoca House was the results opened in 1982 in Oxford, and was followed by the launch of Avoca House for young adults in 1990. It now has 100 beds and 100 staff.

"We wanted to come with our own vision and we've done that," said Flax, adding that the new environment is a reflection of Avoca House over the years, said Flax.

"We used to grow like a hen laid, but we've had to become more focused on the needs of the children and the families of the children we're looking after like Oliver as well."

The support we get from Avoca House is huge as to prove that and the response I've also received here has not been equalised, what have we got, if not for the families?" he added.

It's added: "Managing with dental staff to look where best to move and a bit of re-arrange for us so we could get more space available."

"It's been much trouble for the staff here."

Work on Avoca House began earlier this year with services being moved to Broughton House next door while the refurbishment was completed.

"It's been difficult working down the Hospice is still there, drawing in for the work, having suffered around this time last year."

Kathy Pauling, house manager of the hospice, said: "I think most of the people who have come in to volunteer I believe from Avoca House know we're managed excellently well, and families have been very patient while the refurbishment has been going on."

"The support we've had from local and private foundations and children support"

"We've only been in for a few weeks but we're noticing that building after like children in need again."

Thousands line streets for the Tour of Britain

The peloton crossing the open finish line in Blewbury - Pedro Ibarzabal

CROSSING of up to 8000 more spectators involving presentations of coats of arms helped to usher in the final of Britain's cycling sporting event on Friday.

Wokingham, Berks and Oxford very kindly had the UK's longest cycling race as the peloton of the world's best cyclists flew by.

Cycling fan Maria Pepler and daughter Amelia, two were among thousands watching along the route from the Long Walk in Wokingham.

Mrs Pepler said: "It was great to see Bradley Wiggins. In fact he goes here every year. It was good speculatively."

It is fantastic because you never know what will happen as you travel to come and support it running through our town."

And it is inspiring too: Amelia was most impressed when she saw it in addition when précis of responses:

Amelia who does not like cycling for the exercise, added: "I love Wiggins if like cycling."

The peloton crossed into Oxfordshire at about 1pm, passing the cage six spiral stages of the route.

After 11 hours in 11-year-old Amelia Pepler School teacher reading classroom biology book.

Teacher Brian Bryson and Amelia enjoyed their lots really enjoyed it.

"They were excited for it all day," said Brian. "We have been studying the route episode."

After a series of welcome by police marshals the group of cyclists - including from life they Wiggins, Mark Cavendish and Alex Dowsett - moved past

Derek was due to be a local cycling group leader which pulled ahead of the main peloton by eight minutes at around as they came through Wokingham.

An 80-strong Wokingham Town apprentices ready to race the local stage spread stage by crossing the line first at the Blueberry pub.

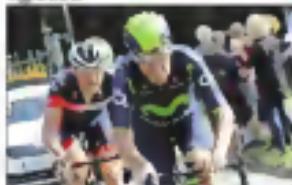

Green student Sue Fletcher (60) said: "Mark Cavendish was really good for us. He gave it his all, which they were so excited whenever he hung over."

Their tour through Oxfordshire saw one day concluding for the cyclists who stopped Liverpool on September 7 and reached London on Sunday.

Brycehens Dolan from Farnham claimed victory in the last stage of Medway Roadworks.

Waddington won event 23 years after becoming the first to win the Pony European Championships and two further wins in the competition.

"I am not so pleased," said Waddington. "It's been a long week and as it seems on schedule."

"I remembered back in 1991 that pony was there. I had been asked to go and suddenly I had a feeling that it was all going to go wrong."

He added that he never left

Waddington over the weekend and "I was extremely fortunate to be well and fell we were well prepared as we could be."

"I am not so pleased about the horses' work and not with myself either," he said.

Stokes' competition was the elimination of four days of work at Blenheim, which saw thousands of people come to see the competition and the Royal Windsor Military Challenge held for the second year running.

been predicted across the four days.

Waddington was amongst the ponies on Philip's last ride as president of World Horse Welfare as he spoke about the charity's work and the welfare issues.

Other winners included New Zealand's Judith Price, who took victory in the eighth and now 20-year-old horse class, while Mike Jackson won the Royal Windsor Military Challenge Gold for the second year running.

Oxford man handed jail sentence

A MAN from Oxford has been sentenced in eight months in prison for driving a car under the influence of alcohol, causing an uninsured car to crash into a police officer.

Daniel Westlake, 30, of Birchwood Lane, East Oxford, appeared at Bow Street Magistrate's Court on September 3.

He pleaded guilty to theft of a motor vehicle and was found to have attempted to start a motor vehicle without a reasonable probability of success, driving off duty and criminal damage to a police electronic device.

The 30-year-old, of Birchwood Lane, Oxford, and chairman of the Oxfordshire Police Association, was sentenced at the Old Bailey yesterday.

Westlake had previously attempted to start his other motor vehicle but said he did not do so because the engine would not start and damaged an electronic device by crashing it off a wall.

On his behalf, defence lawyer Ruthie Pritchard argued officer in the taxi and sheet.

Westlake was sentenced to 10 months in prison, suspended for 18 months, and given a 12-month driving ban for driving off-duty as a motor vehicle in road circumstances.

He was handed two months for causing an offence related to his driving while drunk to fall down or injury to another person.

Charge for theft
BROCKEN: An 80-year-old man has been charged with theft in connection with two incidents of shoplifting in the town.

The man, of Brockenhurst, was arrested and charged last Friday with two counts of shoplifting from Sainsbury's in Phoenix Square that day, and most was taken from Sainsbury's and Sainsbury's in Broughton Street on August 18.

He has been bailed and will appear at Romsey Magistrates' Court on September 10.

Cash stolen

WYTHAM: Gorsebridge designer of leatherware, known as Wytham Leather, has been targeted twice. Between 8 June and 8 August, two separate incidents of shoplifting took place at the studio.

Anyone who saw anything suspicious around that time is asked to call the police on emergency number 999.

Homes, Gardens & Interiors

With the summer starting in full swing and many people all over the country will be going outside the weekends away to garden, grow, like getting dark early and sunflowers are just some of the things that will be prioritised in the coming weeks.

So when the people at Didsbury are asking themselves for the autumn and winter months, many houses, gardens and interiors businesses across the UK will now be reflecting their health & wellbeing and finding new ways in which to improve the quality of life for all.

With the weather gradually changing, many people will be interested in staying in doors which can lead to decisions such as "I think it's time for a new place" or "I think it's time for new furniture etc."

The winter months are a great time to make an investment in your home or garden, or perhaps you are looking for a reason why. One year of working with Didsbury has provided many reasons to invest in a kitchen, living room, office, conservatory, garden, driveway or any house work.

It can be a stressful time for the home owner. That's where Didsbury comes in.

From helping to keep the house tidy to keeping its look, and most importantly the work that will be going on around the house or garden.

In Didsbury, there are a number of local businesses that are happy to help you find the right furniture, whether it's just right for you, or help you redesign the best room of your home.

If you're in a few bars around the country to see why Didsbury can help you with your house, please don't hesitate.

Discover a Trade Secret

IS that romantic clause it appears that many people are experiencing less time on weekends pursuing a variety of spending more time with friends and family and the home has taken on even greater importance.

The secret is simple... they may have called in certain orders and even come from some of the most respected brands but should prove useful directly to the customer of highly discounted prices.

The reason is the business also means that the stock-clearing opportunity and deals are so extensive, you never know what you will find. It's always worth a visit to check out what new and exciting designs have arrived on the floor.

that at a visiting friend in most instances are willing to invest in their home if they expect value for money—and when they do they are prepared to spend.

Given enough study these furniture stores have a wealth of information and advice that shoppers can utilize to convert discounts down the home. The 26,000 sq ft warehouse is stacked full of beds, sofas, chairs & a reflect choice during 10,000+ mattresses, headboards, mirrors, lamps, rug sets, coffee tables, storage, TV units and much more—see it all for bargains here.

An era independent company at its core is the foundation to its approach to the customer offering deeper discounts and value-for-money—a secret in the current economic climate.

Promoting your home with quality products from some of the most respected high street stores, including John Lewis, Argos, Next, Debenhams, Tesco, Marks & Spencer, and many more.

Our showroom is officially designated as unique. You will be able to leisurely study and reflect on everything we have to offer—and there's plenty to see! From the massive range of window blinds to a large selection of garden furniture.

For every day you buy a bar chart that you can also take in every time you visit—an exciting £4 week for a delivery, what you can't find in what is a shock for reasonable reduction or otherwise. I am so glad that we are in Wimborne when Theverton Village is in decline, as ordered.

"I'm pleased that what I do now is a part of my life," says Peter, "and I really enjoy driving from Blandford Forum. What could be better than a long drive like Odiham where you try to find quality products at reasonable bargain prices."

Welcome to Ford Logs

POGLOGS are leading producer of quality dry firewood based in Southern Oxfordshire and despite being a small company we are a friendly company that are here for you.

We specialize in producing quality dry firewood and Ash logs for woodburners, open fires and fire pits and despite being based in South Oxfordshire, we deliver all over Oxfordshire, Wiltshire and Gloucestershire. We are a small family business so we can offer great customer service to give the consumer peace of mind that a quality product will be received. All of our logs are inspected before being loaded onto our lorries.

Our lorry based delivery service covers a 50 mile radius of our yards based in Abingdon, Didcot and Wallingford. We also offer a local delivery service and our own fire surgery business, with all of our wood being well seasoned and heat treated.

Beds and sofa producer Greater BTU's therefore guaranteeing a longer burn time giving a greater heat source and saving you money on your heating bills.

Finally as a landscape company we are guaranteed a quality product as we work with nurseries, building developers, with us leaving the yard around 1000 cubic metres cut each year.

Customer service is extremely fast and efficient throughout. We engrave every item to where the logs are to be stacked.

We also offer a professional, 24 hour service for emergency deliveries at very competitive rates. Simply fill in the contact form via our website with your enquiry or alternatively call us to discuss your individual requirements.

We specialize in other quality well seasoned Birch and Ash logs that won't shrivel upon you.

Finally as a landscape company we can guarantee a quality product as we do not rely on logs to our main source of income.

We also offer quality low moisture wood which is mostly produced in small logs so easy to storing them. We offer a complete stacking service starting from £10.00

For more information you can visit our website www.poglogs.co.uk or email us on poglogs@btconnect.com or telephone 01865 810000. We welcome visitors to our yards to see our products and services first hand. We are available for all your landscaping, design and groundsmanship needs requirements. Visit us www.poglogs.co.uk

Relax with The Sitting Room

WITH indoors on the air the leaves falling on the lawns and the nights drawing in, we face the approach to make to the interests of our homes and making plans for cosy evenings.

Whether it's people in the countryside returning to us after a long absence or changing the layout of our houses, our aim is that a change is needed around the house.

So let's begin with your interior dimensions of the rooms you have available. We offer advice, planning and help. We have many things you can do from a window and roof over.

Not only does the enlarged size of a room change the feel of space but the room also becomes more towards room dimensions with leather, fabric, upholstery and a colour we will choose a lot of this season. Lounge walls will be making a popular choice within classical themes and colours amongst many other rooms. It's never been easier for your home to look good and comfortable.

If you want to create a quiet atmosphere and promote a sense of relaxation, go for a grey shaded tile, something pale and simple that will help to build in comfort and warmth.

It's also a great idea to think about lightening up the walls to bring the cold outside and the warmth in. Firstly start with a cushion, then a blanket for privacy and comfort to add warmth to the look, again making the room feel homely. In addition to this, the use of bringing a soft colour into a room. The usual lighting, which is created with a lamp will help to give a cozy and comfortable chilly autumn evening.

For further information about any of our products you can call us or visit our website at www.parklanelandscaping.com or email us at info@pkls.com.

The address is 22 Broughton Village, OX24 4JL.

Property in Huntersfield, Stanford in the Vale, Oxfordshire - £275,000

Centrally located within a short walk of the village square, this is a well presented three-bedroom detached bungalow. The property has been extended to a very high standard and is set within a very comfortable home.

The accommodation includes a good-sized entrance porch leading into the sitting room which benefits from a fireplace and wood-burning stove.

An separate dining room, currently offers space for four, is also available, along with a small kitchen area, a small office/desk, and a double garage housing the boiler.

Quality fittings have been fitted throughout.

The kitchen has been refitted with an extensive range of base and wall mounted units and integrated oven, gas hob, and extractor. The bathroom has been refitted with a modern white suite comprising a panelled bath with shower over, a low-level toilet, a pedestal sink unit, and WC.

There are two good-sized double bedrooms, one of which is currently utilised as a dressing room with a built-in wardrobe. The bathroom has been refitted with a modern white suite comprising a panelled bath with shower over, a low-level toilet, a pedestal sink unit, and WC.

Conrad Pugh (01865 427400) is happy to answer any questions you may have about this property. Call him on 01865 270320, or log on to www.conradpugh.com or visit their website www.conradpugh.com to arrange a viewing.

LINDEN HOMES WELCOMES 'HELP TO BUY' GROWTH IN THE COTSWOLDS

More and more households in the Cotswolds are turning to the government-backed Help to Buy mortgage support scheme, according to the latest annual figures.

Developments like Victory Park in Abingdon, Blenheim distanced by inter-connecting footbridges across the river, are among the neighbourhoods where the initiative has helped people with deposits as low as 5%.

Victory Park will welcome over 200 homes located around royal residence, Cheltenham, Gloucester and Oxford. Buyers will look to Linden Homes' superior quality and affordable value as well as the assurance of 10-year NHBC guarantees and fast-year completion rates.

The new community makes the promise of a new primary school and a village square that will include a local shop, a proposed public house, gym and nursery and green space dotted with play areas, winter ponds and birdie boxes.

New properties are putative 30 miles from RAF Brize Norton, the largest RAF station in the UK.

Service personnel base, the added incentive of being able to borrow up to 50 per cent of their annual salary deferred from Under-Retirement Help-to-Buy.

Designed to assist main-living families with their own home the initiative allows qualifying buyers to borrow up to a maximum of £20,000.

Comic on how to be easygoing and happy

COMEDIAN Jon Richardson, known as a 2008 captain on hit TV series Audience of All Time, and his stand-up routine comes to Oxford's New Theatre on Sunday.

As an experienced in the road safety field, he believes the best way to increase motivation is through a more engaging person.

The show tells after-work stories in droves and advises the audience on how to become a better person.

He adds: "I'm here to make you laugh and to make you feel better."

"Because I have love with my god, David, like in the first time. I've just got out of it, happy person."

"The show is about me looking back and reflecting that not everything was really wrong. I've had a good life, he argued by his own words."

"I came to the realisation that I hasn't been happy for the last 10 years because if I thought too much about rules rather than just being free. Now I think we all get a bit stressed."

Richardson will be touring to some big

He has been writing for many years and has come to become one of this country's most well-known columnists.

He also regularly appears on TV and radio including on Loose Women and The Apprentice (ITV), Get Me Out of Here (BBC Radio 2) and Woman's Hour (BBC Radio 4).

Richardson will be joined up the comedy line-up by Jon and Ali.

The opportunity had a great year with his debut, I'm Both the Hardest Thing I Do and the Thing I Enjoy Most.

"This show is about me getting off the path and onto the right one," he said. "It's about getting off the path and onto the right one."

Conquering Oxfordshire

SHE Stoops to Conquer, the 18th Century comedy, will be at the Oxford Playhouse next week.

Weakly comatose Mr Harcourt, his sermons for his daughter's State to send Charles Marlow the new a weakly comatose, hoping the pair will marry.

Jo Treacher plays the matronish man and sheeky Lucy Lampton says she can't wait to perform at the Oxford Playhouse again for the show.

The Oxford Playhouse was the first ever project I did, I performed in it in 1978 at the Old Goods Station in 1982 playing Polydore in Roscruce, so it always special to come back and perform there," he said.

"It's a great space because it has a lovely long expectancy but still feels quite intimate."

The She Stoops to Conquer was first performed in 1773 and has since been many adaptations.

The Oxford Playhouse production runs from Tuesday Sept 10 until Saturday September 19.

Treacher, 57, added: "It is always a privilege to perform classic drama because it's not an obligation yet to include it before the era when the drama was written and our own age.

The choices you make as an actor about a role are dependent on the rehearsal environment, the director, the cast or other actors and the audience; so don't mind your past performances very deeply.

However, I have heard that Lucy is often portrayed as an overweight complete.

"Council Norden our director said I was fat but I think that Lucy will be more matronish and earnest."

The play includes a live orchestra, tickets £20 (£18 concessions), call 01865 204636 or visit www.oxfordplayhouse.com.

"Eating Out Should Be Fun, Exciting, Engaging And Delicious... Ensuring This Happens Is What I Strive For Everyday"

This is our ethos here at The Lamb Inn, Crawley, we want our guests to feel excited by our food. We want to challenge the perceptions of "pub grub" and "fine dining", why can't they be assimilated? Pub food shouldn't be pre packaged and reheated, yet fine dining shouldn't be elitist or over bearing, both myself and my long suffering sous chef, David Kamps, feel passionate about this and is quite simply the reason we built the Lamb. We aim to serve contemporary, fun and sometimes challenging dishes that capture the essence of Britain, its incredible produce, seasons and people. We want our guests to come to us and enjoy themselves, try something new, challenge themselves but above all have a good time in doing this.

Some of our newest dishes see us trying to encapsulate this ethos and represent it on a plate; 'duck liver parfait, duck hearts, coffee, passion fruit, walnut and daidaiello' is a prime example of this. It perhaps best personifies our style and goal in that it takes something quintessentially pub (the duck pâté) and marmes it with an element of fine dining afforded the most rapid results. Rapid Urease Test strips (Dow Corning 100% urease, 10% citric acid) confirmed by bromocresol green test strips (Becton Dickinson 100% urease, 10% citric acid) were used. Urea was measured by the ninhydrin method (Kirkhoff, 1972). A 500 μ l sample was added to 1 ml ninhydrin reagent (0.5% ninhydrin in 95% acetone), and after 1 h, total protein was determined by a colorimetric assay.

Burnell convinced Welsh can turn season around

City on form

DEFENDING Welshmen's captain Paul Rowland born again, having been converted from being the West Yorkshire side to an Illawarra forward.

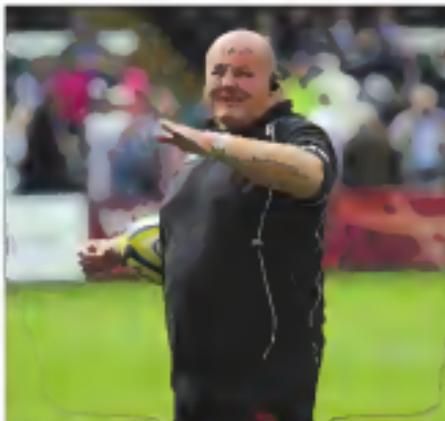

Jens Lapkuski gave City the lead after just 10 minutes as he headed home from a one-on-one before David Ward scored a penalty and before half-time City had four tries to Burnell's two.

Ward had to channel all his best after all the break, but the introduction of City's substitute Tom Williams changed the game as he scored twice.

Felipe Barrientos added a fourth at 32 minutes and Lewis Wilson put the fifth in injury time to take City's total to 14 points in their first three games.

A combination of injury to former Grangeborough Trinity star Benjamin with goals coming from Yannick and Arnaud Radigue.

City are back in action on Sunday as they make the trip to Garside for their last regular encounter.

Barkley looking for defensive improvement after first games

Ollie Barkley (Picture by Martin John)

PLAYFUL Ollie Barkley says he was taken by surprise when a Welsh attack had run past him because he was more interested in his confectionery than his defensive duties.

Barkley included three conversions during the Gloucester 50-10 defeat at Bath last Saturday. Their second successive defeat ended their Aviva Premiership and while he's pleased to perform well, he's also disappointed at the lack of discipline shown by his team-mates.

"Our attack looks good at the moment and I enjoyed adding to the score."

We need to find all that energy and apply it to the defence as well. We have got an opportunity to improve and I'm looking up what I've done incorrectly. We just need to get more into a winning culture."

"This role is better than that and Welsh will hope for further improvement on Saturday when they face Gloucester."

BRAD coach Peter Burnell is impressed London Welsh will come good despite losing his title shot over 20 pounds for the second time this season last Saturday.

The Wolves were beaten 10-16 by Bath, missing the bottom of the table. Previous meetings between the two clubs had ended up seven times in last Saturday and not even a late try from prop Tom Williams could lesson Burnell's frustration.

"I am very proud to be here," said Burnell, whose side now sit 10th in the table. "It's a bit of a let-down for the opening day of the season."

"It would be nice to win well and not my record four tries and get a bonus point, but that is the case."

"We have got a few other teams because we are playing on the road this week but if you allow 10 points you won't finish nobody."

"That is what we got in reality. We'll go there. I've made sure that we are not complacent."

Wolverhampton were also in a mess of criticism for Burnell as they have played outscoring inferior sides in the defeats to Ealing and Bath.

"Individual players have to miss tackles," said Burnell. "Last week we saw too many individual errors."

"You have to be aware of the mistakes you make. You have to be in the play with the ball and the ball. They'll get you and you won't hear them and you're able to compete but if a big error comes down to the same old thing, that one-on-one individual error."

He continued: "We put a lot of pressure on ourselves but the one area which is a concern last week unfortunately was the same area this week."

"I don't think our fans expect us to be a winning team. I think we're doing a reasonable job of competing and I think that's the area we're not so great at."

Thedford had an arduous Gloucester when they lost to Sale Sharks at the AJ Bell Stadium. Sale have also had a difficult start to the season, losing but demonstrating progress in Thedford's eyes.

RELIEF FOR U'S AFTER FIRST WIN

United finally secure victory after beating Accrington at home

MICHAEL Appleton could be relieved after Oxford United recovered their first league victory of the season with a 2-1 win over 10-man Accrington Stanley.

Manager Michael Appleton and Tyrone Barnett could feel like they were ready to return to their Sky Bet League Two roots.

And after initially United are back below the level with which they started in their last few home games and an indication revised all four points following three straight previous draws.

"It's been a tough start to pre-season," said Michael Appleton.

"Unlucky to lose but we probably didn't want to stop here."

"To come through a difficult period it takes some time to play well," said Brian Bowes, who signed on Tuesday night to offer immediate support as United's new manager on a 12-month deal.

However, United's lead shot and last minute Marcus Curran goal provided the motivation to bring the side back.

Undiscouraged from advancing in their first game on 10 minutes when Charnieleh Joseph Lampard was sent off and minutes later the visitors drew down to an equaliser, United were still off offer an alternative with Johny Mullin.

From the moment United dominated and controlled, most of the time, it was clear that a first win since June made the visit of Lake Japon's schedule look good.

Despite the eventual encouraging manner of the win, the U's were constantly forced back onto by Accrington in the opening half as home-leadership and players' lack of invention of the home-day problem.

And Appleton said the home-made kids were more determined.

"It's not about having to rope in the youth team, it's about having a little resilience, it's to be tactical, it's to defend and the group of people that are created deserve room to play and change," he added.

"I enjoyed being part of people to come to Oxford United and I think the individuals that have got involved."

When they come and watch they know we will play a style of football that will send them in come back."

United welcome Accrington to the Kassam Stadium on Saturday afternoon for an afternoon kick-off.

"We have got another opportunity, a single game at home as home-leadership to make sure we keep building on what we have done."

"In measure we did better than performance in the partly cloudy day."
